BOAT LICENSING & REGISTRATION

All pleasure craft powered by an engine of 10 horsepower or more are required to have a Pleasure Craft License (PCL) issued by Transport Canada unless they have a vessel registration. The process to attain a new PCL, or to transfer one, is easy, can be done online or through the mail and must be completed within 90 days of purchasing a boat. A PCL is free of charge and is good for 10 years. If you move or any of your information changes during that time, you are responsible for updating your license information.

You must display your PCL number on both sides of the bow of your boat above the water line and carry a copy of your card while on board. There is a $250 fine if you are found operating a vessel without a license.

To apply for or transfer a PCL or for more details visit Transport Canada.

For boat owners who wish to have an approved name and port of registry for your vessel, register a marine mortgage, or show proof of ownership, you will want to register your boat in the Canadian Register of Vessels. There is a fee of $250 to register your vessel and $150 to transfer registration.

For more details on registering a pleasure craft visit Transport Canada.
